

Sir Richard Branson and friends party at The Roof Gardens to celebrate 30 years on top in London

Last night Sir Richard Branson hosted an 80's extravaganza at The Roof Gardens to celebrate 30 years as one of the top clubs and venues in London.

Celebrities including  and friends were treated to a fun packed evening including a variety of live music - which included a fantastic performance from The Overtones and an amazing DJ set from 80's legend Boy George. Guests also enjoyed a roller disco and to round off the evening, a spectacular fireworks display with views across London.

As part of the celebrations a live charity auction was held helping to raise money for Trekstock - a charity which aims to raise awareness of cancer in young people. Some of the brilliant auction items included a fabulous trip for two to Necker Island and a drumming lesson with Andy Burrows from Razorlight.

It was an evening of double celebration as Babylon, the award-winning restaurant at The Roof Gardens; also celebrated its 10th birthday and regular guests were invited to a delicious dinner before joining the party downstairs.

For the past three decades, the venue which is also part of the Virgin Limited Edition luxury portfolio, has entertained and enchanted Londoners and visitors from around the world with its 1.5 acres beautiful gardens, its exclusive private members nightclub and the award-winning Babylon Restaurant.

Sir Richard Branson commented: "I am thrilled that we are celebrating owning The Roof Gardens for 30 years, I can't believe how time flies! This evening has really celebrated everything the venue has to offer and was a fantastic way to say a huge thank you to everyone who has supported us over the years."
